

INTRODUCTION

Michael Kent became interested in magic at the age of three, when he learned he could make himself disappear by covering his eyes. This was just the first in a lifetime of amazing accomplishments.

He spent his younger years performing magic to make friends and meet girls. After graduating from college, it became his job. He's performed all over the country, met lots of people -- even wrote a book. After all this, he still feels like more of a Professional Smartass than a Magician.

Please welcome Professional Smartass, Michael Kent!

(fold here)

(please do not read "fold here" as part of intro)

COMIC. MAGICIAN. SMART@$$!
MICHAEL KENT